

Blue Sky Vine

Fast growing sky vine reaches for the sky, decorated with ravishing summer flowers in blue with a hint of violet. Blue flowering plants are a rarity in South Florida, and this vine's incredibly beautiful clusters of blue-violet blooms light up the landscape with their unusual color and sheer size.

Plant blue-sky vine at the base of a supporting structure in a well-draining, organically rich soil with six or more hours of morning and late afternoon sun. Shelter it from strong, midafternoon sunlight. Space multiple plants 3 to 5 feet apart to accommodate their mature, 6- to 10-foot spread.

Water the vine deeply every 10 days to two weeks, or as needed to maintain evenly moist soil. While it tolerates brief dry spells, regular moisture maximizes blue-sky vine's flower production.
